Hartman Wins Trip to Lottery Fame & Fortune

Local resident, Mark Hartman, of Grayling, was one of six contestants named today to star on the Saturday, August 19, telecast of the Michigan Lottery's weekly "Fame & Fortune" game show.

One of six contestants will win the top prize of $50,000, but all will end up as winners. The show also awards additional cash prizes up to $5,000 as well as new cars and other merchandise.

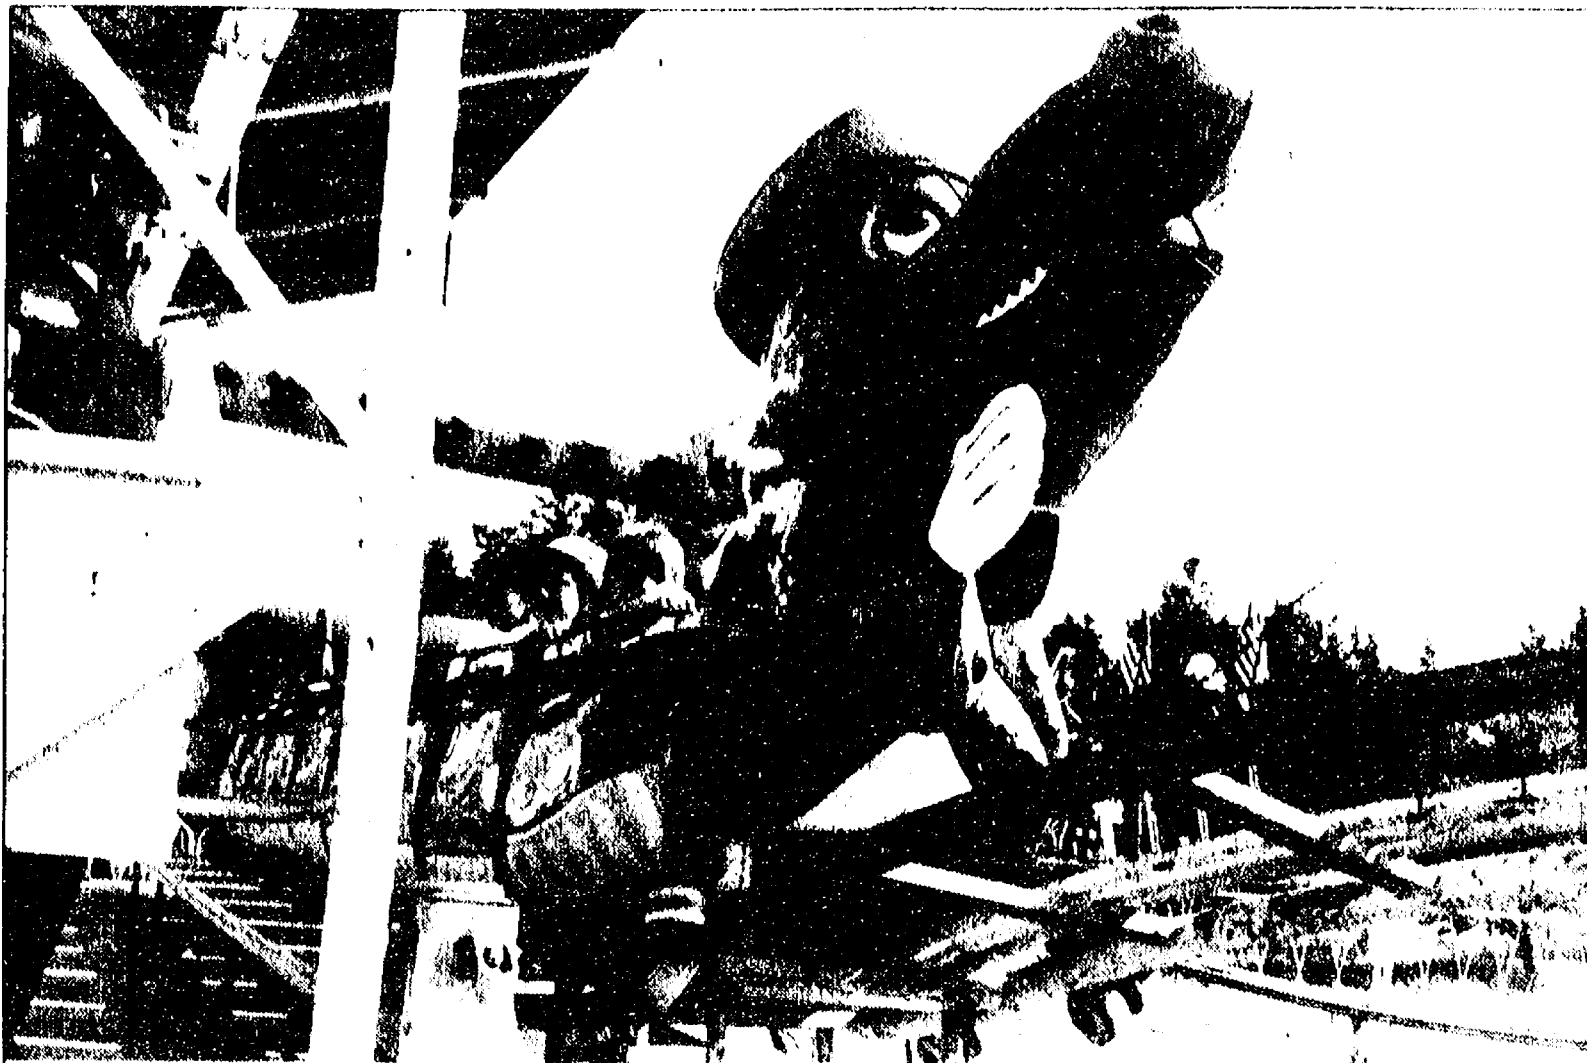

All contestants receive full "star" treatment including an overnight stay at the Omni International Hotel, VIP Limousine Service for travels around Detroit and a special luncheon at The Whitney Restaurant. They also enjoy a photo session and professionally applied television makeup prior to being greeted by the show's live audience.

Taped on Friday at WDIV-TV, Channel 4, "Fame & Fortune" is broadcast Saturday night with live drawings of the Daily 3, Zinger and Super Lotto games inserted. Starting at 7:30 p.m., the full half-hour show is fed by satellite to a statewide network of eight other stations.

These include WBKB-TV, Channel 11 in Alpena; WUHQ-TV, Channel 41 in Battle Creek; WEYI-TV, Channel 25 in Flint; WZZM-TV, Channel 13 in Grand Rapids; WILX-TV, Channel 10 in Lansing and Jackson; WLUC-TV, Channel 6 in Marquette; WGTU-TV, Channel 29 in Traverse City, and WGTQ-TV, Channel 8 in Sault Ste. Marie.

Tickets to the "Fame & Fortune" instant game are sold at all 8,000 Michigan Lottery retailers. Those showing three TV symbols should be completed with name, address and phone number and mailed to "Fame & Fortune", P.O. Box 30077, Lansing, MI 48908 or dropped off at any of the seven Lottery regional offices.

The instant game also features millions of other prizes $2, $5, $25, $50 and $100 amounts, all collectible at any Lottery retailer.

Shawono Center's Success Rate Reaches 92 Percent

(This is the last article in a three-part series on the Shawono Center.)

By Irene Pettyjohn

No matter how hard the residents at Shawono Center fight its program, the Center's 92 percent success rate reveals the program's overall benefit to its residents.

Thirty-six residents have secured releases from the Shawono Center since it became a medium security training center in 1986, and only three of those have repeated their problems with the police (all three committing felonies following their release).

The other Shawono "graduates" have gone on to join the military (Army and Navy), attend college, secure jobs or return to high school. One young man is a junior in high school with a 3 point grade average. He plays on his school's football team and plans to attend college. Still others, said Charles Amman, acting director of the facility, are doing only marginally, but are managing to stay out of trouble.

"Once a resident becomes convinced that it is more to his benefit to change his behavior than to stay the way he is," said Amman, "he is basically on his way to earning his release." Amman explained the following procedure that must be followed by a resident before he can secure his own release:

When a resident has reached level five (the highest level in the Shawono program) and decides he is ready for release, before he approaches either his group or the Shawono staff about his intentions, he must set up a support system for his "life after Shawono."

If he is going home, he must have two visits with his family and contracts must be made between himself and the responsible adult family members concerning the expectations of one another's behaviors and responsibilities. Contracts must also be made with the resident's Delinquency Service Worker regarding employment or educational plans. Once these steps have been taken, the resident must present his request for release to the members of the group.

The group, which consists of nine other Shawono residents, must make an assessment of the resident's readiness. This process usually takes three, 90-minute sessions to complete. During these sessions the members of his group review all his behaviors, negative and positive, and what steps he has taken to control the negative ones. (Negative behaviors might include lying or stealing.) If the group approves the resident's request for release the request goes to the team, which consists of various Shawono staff members.

The team must then discuss their perceptions regarding the resident's release. In addition to assessing the resident's behavior, the team must try to assess how the Youth Parole and Review Board is going to assess the resident's progress in relationship to the offense that brought the resident to Shawono in the first place.

"We have to not only believe he is ready for release, but we must also try to judge whether the board will approve his release," Amman said. "Otherwise, we would be setting the youth up for refusal."

If the team concurs with the group's decision, the group leader arranges for a leave of absence from the program to wherever his future placement will be. The resident is then free to leave the Center for about three weeks, pending a release hearing from the parole board. A hearing date is set, and the Administrative Law Judge, the resident, his Delinquency Service Worker and his parents (or responsible adult) meet at Shawono for a hearing that lasts from two to three hours. At this hearing, once again the resident's behavior is reviewed. Why was the resident sent to Shawono, how did he progress during his time at Shawono, how did he handle his recent leave of absence, did he get a job, does he still have the job or did he enroll in school are all questions that will be discussed. The Administrative Law Judge then takes this information to the parole board and makes a recommendation. The Youth Parole and Review Board then decides whether or not the resident is to be released.

Amman said the extensive release procedures are in place for several reasons. Among these reasons is to ensure that residents are not released before they are ready, and a second reason is to avoid setting up a resident for refusal by the parole board. He said this can only be done by making sure the Shawono staff has completely assessed the resident's progress both in the program and with his plans for his future following his release.

RELEASED - WHERE TO?

About 70 percent of the residents leaving Shawono return home. Amman said that Shawono ascribes to the premise that home is the best place for its residents until proven otherwise.

News Briefs

Lightning Strikes Army Reservist

An Army Reservist was in critical condition at 11 a.m. Tuesday, Aug. 15, at the University of Michigan Medical Center after being hit by lightning at 7 p.m. Monday at Camp Grayling.

Specialist Scot E. Severn, 21, of Unionville, was on sentry duty with other members of his Bay City-based unit, Headquarters Battery, 9th Battalion, of the 38th Field Artillery, when he was struck. No other reservists nearby him were injured.

His unit was training at a Camp Grayling artillery range about 15 miles northeast of Grayling. He was taken to Mercy Hospital and transferred to the U. of M. Burn Unit by a U.S. Coast Guard helicopter.

Bear Struck By Local Automobile

Cindy Sheldon, of Grayling, struck a young bear (between a cub and a yearling) with her car early Friday morning, August 11, near Four Mile Road and I-75, severely injuring the animal.

Sheldon reported the accident to the Crawford County Sheriff Dept. at about 2:52 a.m. and the department notified Conservation Officer Mark Lutz. When the extent of the bear's injuries were described to Lutz, he directed the Sheriff deputies to shoot the bear, and said he would pick up the animal in the morning.

Lutz said the bear's injuries were so severe that it was more humane to end its suffering, than to try to save it. He said that when he arrived at the accident site at approximately 8 a.m. the following morning, the bear's body had already been taken.

Owner Fights Blaze With Fire Extinguishers

Carroll Sheggrud, owner of the Pineview Army Surplus in Frederic, used five fire extinguishers to battle a fire that threatened to destroy his business while the Frederic Fire Dept rushed to the scene.

Sheggrud spotted the fire Saturday evening, August 12, at about 7:15 p.m. from his home, which is adjacent to the business, and had to go approximately 1/2 mile to call the fire department because his telephone was out of order.

Between Sheggrud and the Frederic Fire Dept., the structure was saved; however, the contents were a total loss because of smoke and water damage.

No one was injured. The fire is still under investigation.

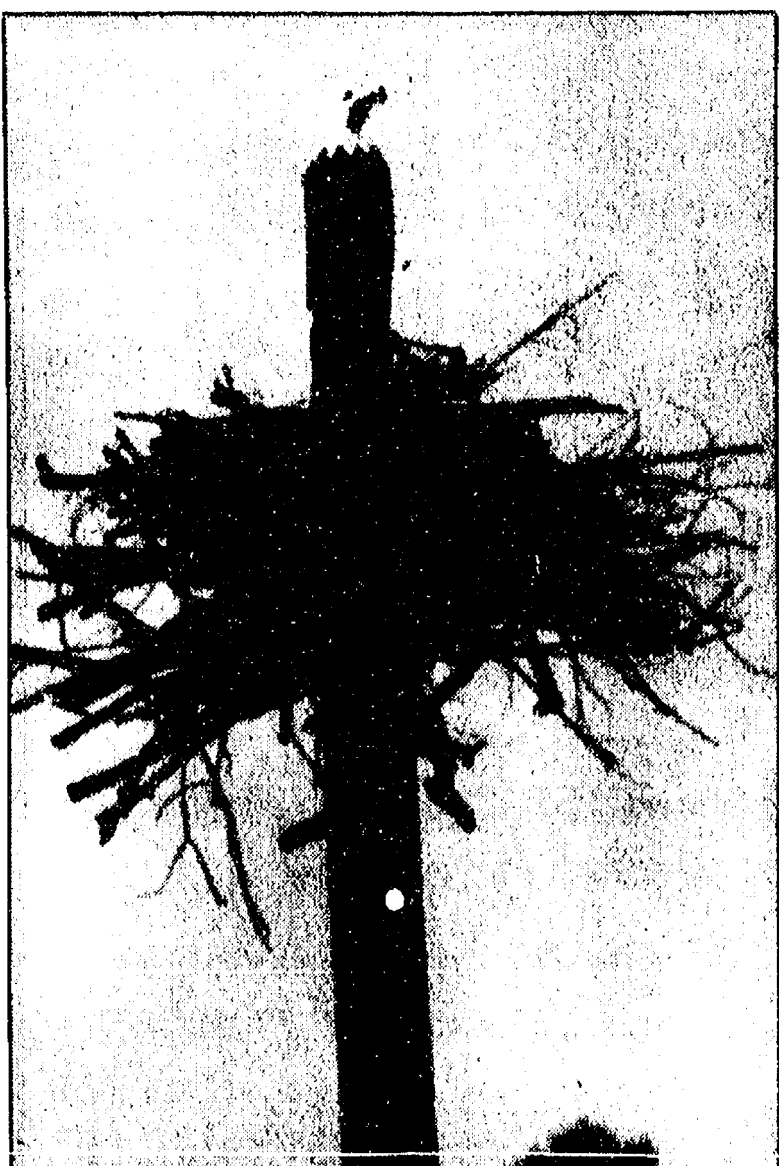

Blind Camp Offers A New Experience

During the week of August 13-20 National Camps for Blind Children will host sight-impaired young people from this area at a free summer camp designed to meet their special needs.

Activities at Camp AuSable, just east of Grayling, included horseback riding, water skiing, archery, canoeing, crafts, swimming and more. The camp will focus on abilities rather than on disabilities. Sighted counselors and staff are on hand to ensure safety and assist during activities.

National Camps for Blind Children is a free service of Christian Record Services. If you know of legally blind persons, age nine or older, who are interested in attending this free summer camp, please contact the National Camps headquarters at 4444 South 52nd St., Lincoln, NE 68516 402-488-0981 or the local camp director, Joan Petty, at 313-838-0416.

NEW ATTRACTION - The Grayling Fish Hatchery has had this nesting eagle watching over its trout ponds all summer. Why not visit the hatchery and get a "bird's eye view" of this new attraction that was carved by Bill Burrick of Frederic.

Six Concert Performances Here in 89-90

The Crawford School District Community Education Office is pleased to announce a Concert Series for the 1989-1990 season featuring College and University bands from around the State of Michigan. Through the series, which is financed in part by Chemical Bank North, Grayling State Bank, Great Lakes Bancorp, Old Kent Bank of Gaylord, Georgia Pacific Company, and Michigan Council for the Arts, Cheboygan Area Arts Council, the Community Education Office hopes to acquaint area residents with the various types of musical compositions played by our many fine college and university bands.

There will be a schedule of six performances between October, 1989, and May, 1990, featuring the University of Michigan Jazz Ensemble on October 28; the Central Michigan University Symphonic Wind Ensemble on November 4; the Alma Kiltie Band on February 3; Grayling High School and area school bands on February 22; the Western Michigan University Symphonic Band on March 27; and the LSSU Jazz Ensemble April 6.

Season Tickets for all six performances which will be held at the Joseph Stripe Auditorium are set at $15. Tickets are on sale now and may be purchased through the Adult Community Education Office at Grayling High School. Only 500 tickets will be available for each performance. If there are any individual performance tickets available, they will go on sale one week prior to the performance. It is suggested that you purchase your season tickets early.

Let's Talk About It

By Joe Murphy

I remember when I was a kid if I had my chores done and supper was over I was free to play till dark. It seemed Mom always said as I went out the door "Be sure to be home by dark." Even today when those shadows get long I feel I better be heading home. I guess you would call that conditioned reflexes. In those days our folks had not read Dr. Spock's book and felt free to paddle our butts if we disobeyed. That may have been bad for our psyche but it kept us out of trouble.

Remember all the taboos we observed when we were kids. We all walked careful on the sidewalks for if we stepped on a crack it would break our Mother's back. You never hollered down a pipe in the ground for it would wake the dead. We'd all pity anyone who broke a mirror they were in for seven years of bad luck. We were careful not to walk under ladders and if a black cat crossed our path we took a detour around it. If we had on a red shirt or red cap we were careful not to let a cow see us as we knew they would run us down. If you were sitting on the back of a wagon you didn't watch the wheels turning as that would cross your eyes. Old John Wilcox came into town one time and his boy was sitting on the back of the wagon watching the wheels. He had to back the wagon all the way home to get the boy's eyes unwound. At least that's the way he told it.

I find it ironic that a lot of the same people that believe in abortion are against capital punishment. Do they really believe that it's right to kill an innocent baby and wrong to kill a mad dog murderer. Perhaps a change of terminology is all we need. Instead of capital punishment let's call it retroactive abortion.

Do any of you folks remember those great Golden Gloves boxing matches we used to have here back in the C.C.C. days. I believe the American Legion sponsored them. They were held in the old high school gym and went on for several nights. I don't know where Dad got the money but I don't think we ever missed a night. Even my Mom was a great fan and came with us every night. Some local boys and the boys from the C.C.C. camps put on some real good fights. I remember the night when all hell broke loose and a riot started. It might have been a real bad night but Sheriff Frank Bennet kept it from spreading. But things were hot in that gym for a while.

Budget has political overtones

THE MICHIGAN LEGISLATURE has adopted the annual state budget, with more than $7.2 billion of taxpayer money in the general fund portion.

That's a lot of taxpayer money. That's a seven, followed by nine other digits.

What goes out, of course, has got to come in. That means $7.2 billion in taxes and fees and charges and other methods of separating the taxpayer from his/her money.

Is politics involved in how the spending is split? It's inevitable.

THE LEADING BUDGET makers are Gov. James Blanchard for the Democrats and Sen. John Engler, as Senate leader, for the Republicans. These two also happen to be almost certain opposing candidates for governor in 1990. Everything they do -- especially in direct contrast, one to the other -- has political overtones.

For example, the City of Detroit came in for special budget treatment and extra taxpayer dollars. Equity? Possibly. Politics? Certainly.

"I think both John and the governor are working very hard to show their sensitivity to and their support of Detroit and that's reflected in the budget," explained Rep. Paul Hillegonds, Republican leader in the House.

Sen. David Holmes, long-serving Detroit Democrat, was more succinct: "These people have been around. They know where the votes are."

Detroit boosters rubbed their hands in glee, as they backed up the city delivery truck to haul away the state tax dollars.

"We're delighted with the money for Detroit," said Sen. Jackie Vaughn, another Detroit Democrat who is in the forefront of most Detroit funding proposals. "We're always looking for friends for our city, whether it's election time or any other time."

Detroit is Michigan's largest city. At election time, would-be candidates naturally pay special attention to heavy concentrations of voters. Detroit qualifies for special political attention.

THE NEW STATE budget contains $26.4 million in Michigan taxpayer dollars for the so-called "Detroit equity package." That covers such items as $16.4 million to the Detroit Institute of Arts, $3.5 million for the Detroit Historical Museum, $2.5 million for the Detroit zoo and $4 million for the Detroit police department special events division. That's the same level of state taxpayer support for these city operations as in the past.

There's also $5 million for Cobo Center, $2.7 million for Belle Isle, $2.6 for low income housing, $2.5 million for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, and $500,000 for the Detroit Science Center. Again, those are state taxpayer subsidies for city operations.

There even will be lesser state help for such things as the Detroit downtown trolley, the Detroit Motown Museum, and even $40,000 for something called "the mobile African-American museum."

Is politics involved in any of these decisions? Certainly. Politics of both the past and the future.

NEW APPROACHES -- If the budget process can be used to stimulate economic growth -- as can be argued with considerable logic -- then here's another possibility.

When Detroit professional athletic teams are doing well, people turn out to see the games. They spend money. They stay overnight, eat in restaurants, pay to park their cars, buy gasoline, buy souvenirs. Everybody gains.

But fans don't turn out to see losing teams. Therefore, the state should help build winning sports teams.

The Detroit Lions (who perform in Oakland County) are having trouble signing their top draft pick, Barry Sanders, who likely would help the Lions win. Why not a state subsidy to the Lions to employ Mr. Sanders?

The Detroit Tigers (who perform in Detroit) probably would do a lot better if Kirk Gibson was back on the team. Mr. Gibson left for greener pastures in California. Why not a state subsidy to get Mr. Gibson back in a Tiger uniform to help them win?

And as for the Detroit Pistons, just imagine what an economic bonanza would result if Magic Johnson could be lured away from the Lakers? Could tax dollars be better spent?

This program probably wouldn't fly. But who knows? After all, an election is coming up, and in politics, funny things can happen.

Former Marathon Winner Calls Penalty Too Severe

The 42nd annual AuSable River Canoe Marathon has come and gone. However, it is far from forgotten. Everyone should realize that in all sporting events rules, judges, referees and various committees are an accepted necessity.

Over the years there have been few paddlers penalized for minor infractions. Never in the history of the AuSable River Canoe Marathon has any team been penalized as severely as Steve Landick and Solomon Carriere for the ludicrous technicality of failing to attend a ten-minute briefing covering "dos" and "don'ts" which the majority of veteran paddlers have long been aware of anyway.

Why was the arbitrary time penalty of ten minutes chosen to be administered at the finish line? It is virtually an impossibility to out-paddle three of the best teams now racing and be subsequently "slapped" with a ten minute penalty after the race was won.

Landick and Carriere did out-paddle all three teams and were first across the finish line at Oscoda. They should go down in the record book as winners of the 1989 marathon and also should have received the $4,000 first place prize money rather than $1500 for fourth.

Solomon Carriere and his family drove twenty-six hours to reach Grayling and he proved he was indeed a champion. For years the AuSable River Canoe Marathon has boasted of attracting the top canoe racers from both the United States and Canada. In 1989 we had one of "Canada's best." If this is the committee's idea of "hanging out" the "welcome mat" for paddlers from North of the border perhaps they should seriously reexamine their position regarding a minor pre-race briefing on the afternoon of the event. Since Landick and Carriere failed to adhere to the committee's "mandatory" pre-race briefing the group had no choice but to reprimand them severely, perhaps to insure total attendance for future Marathons. Their blatant overreaction to the situation resulted in the ten minute penalty being assessed at the finish line.

Solomon Carriere left the Grayling area with a "bad taste" in his mouth. At race time July, 1990, do not be surprised if Canada's best paddlers are conspicuously absent from the lineup.

If I have offended anyone in any way or stepped on someone's "big toe" by publishing this letter than I have accomplished what I intended to do from the beginning. I may be an old "burned-out" three time Marathon winner, however, I still strongly believe in justice, fair play and the difference between right and wrong.

We All Use Our Freedom To Live Where We Want To

We enjoy our visits to Grayling on weekends and vacations. The 2 hr. trip from Saginaw is not too bad considering the enjoyment of being "up north". I grew up in Grayling, and now I take my children up to do a little water skiing, snow skiing, canoeing, or to just visit family. We live outside of Saginaw towards Freeland.

I could go on and on about the terrible disaster caused by a chemical train derailment recently which ruined many homes in the Freeland area and turned peoples lives up side down. Some 3,000 were evacuated, businesses were closed, and even now homes are being tested for safety. This train and others like it are spread across this country for miles. It could have happened anywhere along the route.

I cannot help but compare this with the individuals in the Grayling area who complain about the noise from the volunteer National Guard. The Guard objective is to protect the freedom our relatives built for us years ago. And of course we all use our freedom to live where we want to. It's not always the perfect situation to suit everyone.

We live across the street from a herd of dairy cattle that get hungry and rather loud every morning about 5 a.m. But we moved there anyway, and we don't try to limit the farmer in his objective to produce food.

Why Aren't Tapes Available to Public?

Is Lovells Township Board trying to hide something? All I wanted was a copy of a tape of a Lovells Township Special Meeting that should have been posted and open to the public and the tape should have been public information. I had my own tape, my own recorder and my own batteries. I wasn't even going to use the township's electricity. Did you get rid of that tape when you knew someone wanted to listen to it?

The current Supervisor was the Supervisor in 1977, when it became a board policy to tape all meetings and to keep the tapes for at least six months. Why did you change your policy all of a sudden? With more than one law suit pending, I would think you would want to keep those tapes for reference.

How About Photos Of Other Races?

Dear Jon,

As always we enjoyed the canoe races but I'm writing with concern on two of the races. The Standard and Pleasure classes.

First off, the team that finished in 5th place is of Dick Schaefer and Dove Fraley not Dave, all year she's been known as Dave in Pleasure.

And second, why is there never any pictures of these two classes and there is of every one else. These teams race for points and standings all season and work hard at it. Also they have their state championship in Vassar.

So next year, how about a picture or two of these two classes also?

Notes from the Woods

By Nancy Lemmen
Avalanche Columnist

"What are you going to write about in your column next week?" Dave the Editor asked as he packed to leave for Montana.

"Actually," I tried to smile sweetly, "I thought I'd write about you."

"Me? What about me?" Dave the Husband seemed slightly nervous, perhaps realizing that he wouldn't be around for first editing privileges before the column was printed.

"Yeah, I thought I'd write about Dave the Fisherman -- the guy who takes nine days of his annual allotment to drive from Michigan to Montana with his pal Mike in 24 hours to spend ten days catching and releasing trout before taking another 24 hours to drive home during the exact two-week period that my family is renting a cottage on Lake Margrethe." Whew, that was a mouthful. I was out of breath.

"Careful," he warned. "That could sound bitter."

"Nah, I think I can make it sound cute." But his warning sort of played around in my mind. So I decided against writing about his trip.

All I know anyway is that he finally called me five days into it to say they "had murdered the trout on the Big Horn River" (not literally -- they caught and released) and were now in Great Falls ready to hit the streams in that area. He asked me to call his buddy Paul to advise him to take lots of size 16 Robert's Drake flies when he goes to Montana (with his family) next week.

So since I wasn't going to write about Dave and his fishing trip, I told him I had decided to write about organization instead.

"What about organization?" Dave asked me as he packed his cooler.

"You know, being organized. Like how you always are and I'm always not."

This conversation was taking place at about 6:20 a.m. on the Tuesday he was scheduled to leave at 6:00 a.m. His alarm clock, which he swore he had carefully set the night before, hadn't gone off. He had awakened on his own at 6:00, the exact time that Mike was scheduled to pick him up.

Dave jumped into the shower while I called Mike to tell him to come at 6:30. Then he quickly dressed, ate his cereal and yogurt, packed his pop and juices in the cooler, and waited for Mike to arrive. All this in less than half an hour. I was impressed.

"You know," I called to him through the shower door, trying to sound cute and not bitter. "This is a basic difference between you and me. You were all packed two days before you left, with your bags already in Mike's car the night before. But then you don't set the alarm clock right. I would have made sure that the alarm clock went off on time. But I also would have had to do all my packing that morning."

"Hmmm," I think he replied. It was hard to hear him through the running water.

I guess I shouldn't have been surprised then on Thursday morning when that same alarm clock which I had set the night before didn't go off, either. Dave hadn't goofed up. It was broken. However, because he's organized, he could accommodate that slight snafu. Because I'm disorganized, it would have been disastrous for me.

There are some people who actually believe -- I guess because I can do things like get myself to work and do my job -- that I'm organized.

But they don't see behind the scenes. They don't realize that earlier in the morning I was ironing my pants while eating my breakfast while proofreading my column while watching "Today." And that I was putting out the dogs while brushing my teeth while watering the plants while loading the car. And that I was applying my make-up while combing my hair while filling my nails while driving to work. And that it took me three hours to do it.

This is the truth. If you don't believe me, you can ask Dave (when he gets back from Montana).

On the other hand, Dave does only one thing at a time and he can still be ready to leave for work in 45 minutes. And he always looks better than I do. His hair is combed, his shirts have all their buttons, his jacket goes with his outfit. I don't know how he does it.

One time, he and my brother had a race to see who could get ready fastest -- shower, shave, dress in suits -- to go see a play. Both of them were ready in less than five minutes. It was amazing to watch.

Dave's almost parting words, said very nicely and hopefully, were: "Maybe when I get home from Montana, the newspapers will be gone." See, I keep any newspapers that I don't get to read each day. I now have two three-foot piles stacked in a closet where we want to move a new dresser. I had told him that I'd get rid of them this summer.

"Probably," I smiled brightly.

"Probably not," I groaned inwardly.

But then there's always next summer, when he takes his vacation time to go pike fishing in Ontario.

Anyway, I hope to get all my newspapers read and sorted. And I also hope to remember to buy a new alarm clock, so that I get my column to the Avalanche tomorrow in time for this week's edition. And I really hope that Dave is enjoying himself immensely trout fishing in Montana.

Letters to the Editor

Appreciated Help During Lake Storm

To the Editor:

I would like to show my appreciation for the help and assistance at Lake Margrethe during the sudden storm last Friday, Aug. 4th.

My son Larry and I headed for the boat slips on South Bay, it was rough for my small boat and motor. I noted the slips were filled up and others waiting to get in so I did the next best thing and beached my boat about 150 feet from the slip.

After the large boats were taken care of by Guardsmen, it was finally our turn.

To the young Guard who helped us, our heartfelt thanks, who without being asked jumped in the water with Larry and pushed and pulled our boat to the slip, helped load the boat on the trailer and disappeared while I took the boat to the parking lot.

So, many thanks again Mr. Guardman. Lawrence (Bud) Hunter Grayling wise. When going home is not possible, Amman said they have been successful sending residents to group homes, foster care homes, and half-way houses.

"Most often home is the best place for the youth, or it is where the youth is going to go because he thinks it is the best place," said Amman, "and there is a limit to what we can do to keep him from going home."

"Most all the problems between residents and their parents comes from a lack of communication," Amman said. "We try to get the kids and their parents to be more honest with each other."

Amman said that by the time a young man winds up at Shawono, he and his parents have usually experienced several years of problems that seem unsolvable. The parents have had years of telephone calls saying, "Your kid didn't go to school today, your kid is down here in jail, your kid broke the windows out of the school, what are you going to do about your son?" Amman said that after 10 years or so, many of these parents want to disown their children. It is especially difficult to work with families when a parent has had a problem with the law when he or she was young.

"Getting those individuals to trust me so that I can help them is almost impossible," said Amman.

SHAWONO'S IMPRESSIVE RECORD

The Youth Parole Review Board has only refused three release requests from Shawono residents, and all three of those residents ran into problems during their three week leave of absence and were returned to the Shawono Center. Shawono had asked that their release requests be withdrawn, but once a petition is filed, a hearing must be held. Amman said there has never been a time when a resident has received approval of his group, approval of the team, and experienced a successful leave of absence that his request for release was denied.

FOLLOW UP

The Shawono Center staff stays in touch with its residents' progress following their release through the Case Manager from North Central Community Mental Health. Part of her job is to regularly follow a resident's progress with the people who are still working with the young men. Amman said she seldom talks directly with the youths, but communicates through the Delinquency Service Worker, the community mental health personnel, or the case worker from the Department of Social Services (DSS) who is assigned to each youth following his release.

Each resident, following his release, is also subject to a six and twelve month DSS divisional assessment to see if the youth is employed, looking for employment or constructively involved, and whether or not he has had any contact with the police. The youth is usually discharged from state wardship after one year. However, wardship could continue until age 18.

DEATH PENALTY FOR JUVENILES?

Recently the U.S. Supreme Court ruled that states may impose the death penalty on juveniles who commit certain serious crimes such as murder. During this interview with Chuck Amman and Jim Sandborn, program managers at the Shawono Center with many years experience working with delinquent boys, the question was asked whether they agreed with the ruling.

"No, I don't think it is right," said Amman. "I think there is too much that can change in a person from that age until he matures, that it can be said that the person is irredeemable and therefore should be put to death."

Sandborn said that he could not agree with the Supreme Court ruling either, because with a juvenile there are still so many opportunities for growth and that kids 14 to 16 years of age are too young in their developing stages to make a long range determination of their worth (good vs. no good). He pointed out that many of Shawono's residents' problems began because they were first neglected or abused by their parents. The problem began with the parents and became the children's problem as they acted out their anger, hate and frustrations. He said he has seen many cases where a young man was able to turn his life around, leave the wardship of the state and never get into trouble again. A fact, Sandborn said, that is all too often forgotten.

"It is difficult to make a life or death decision on an adult - he is no good, there is no chance for rehabilitation," said Sandborn, "I don't know how anyone could make that determination about a child. I would not want to make that call."

Impressed With Finding In Camp Grayling Study

Dear Mr. Thompson,

In response to Mrs. Sherry J. Schairer's letter published in the August 3 edition of the Crawford County Avalanche, I hope to disseminate some important information as well as express some personal views regarding the Army National Guard and its impact upon northern Michigan.

In Mrs. Schairer's letter, primary concern was given to the environmental issues associated with Camp Grayling with specific regard to the Kirtland's Warbler and the AuSable river. Obviously, Mrs. Schairer did not observe the recently released Environmental Impact Statement (EIS) - a documented culmination of a two year environmental study of the impact of training at Camp Grayling. I must say that is quite surprising for an avid supporter of the AuSable Manistee Action Council!

In the study, nearly all conceivable aspects of the environment were observed from soil to groundwater, all the way down to macroinvertebrates and diatoms. In no instance, however, were there signs of any adverse effects upon the environment, even from Barnes Lake, (after which the study was named) which is located directly within the boundaries of range forty. Furthermore, water samples showed "no indication that Firing Range 40 was having any effect on the North or East branches of the AuSable... or the water quality of the lakes." Groundwater showed metal concentrations as normal with "no detectable quantities of explosives were found" and volatile organics and acid/base extractable organics "below the limit of detection." Also, soils and stream sediments were observed with the same conclusion.

Perhaps the most significant finding, however, came from the macroinvertebrates and diatoms. These organisms, being the most delicate of all cases studied would surely exhibit any adverse effects to be found, but still showed "no evidence of any impact from Firing Range 40 activities." In fact the macroinvertebrates, a food source for trout, showed in sample site STR 1 "the highest number of species even though it was the location that received the most direct runoff from the impact area." I find that rather impressive.

As for the Kirtland's warbler, the National Guard realizes the delicacy and importance of this species and recognizes the need for conscientious management.

That is why on every military map the nesting grounds of this bird are specifically noted and special consideration is observed during nesting periods. Also, I have not known of the Bald Eagle residing very far from a lake or stream, and there it has been proven that there has been no indication of any adverse effects.

What next, Mrs. Schairer?

Mrs. Schairer also discussed noise and expansion, both of which she rejected. I, as well as many others, have no problems with noise, and I am a year round resident, subject to every training period active here.

As for the statement "Mr. Hanson gave the Michigan National Guard an inch, they have taken a mile!" I must disagree, for only a part of the land owned by the National Guard is actively trained on. Besides, I'm sure Mr. Hanson realized the importance and need for an adequate training facility, and was generous in his contribution to the defense of our nation. It is only a shame more people have not realized how fortunate we are to have the Guard here, not only economically, but patriotically as well. Without the Guard, people such as Mrs. Schairer may not have the opportunity for opinion.

Lastly, Mrs. Schairer stated that she has owned property here for twenty years and had been visiting here for another twenty before that. As she said, she is not a newcomer to the area, so why does she express such discontent now? Does the "bandwagon effect" apply here? Maybe the acronym AMAC really stands for the AuSable Manistee Adversary Council, for I have not seen any action to preserve the environment, but only a fraternity of opposition to the National Guard.

Trying To Look Out For Best Spot On Earth

I am one of the "you" that are not important, and am writing in response to the letter written by Mr. Joe Stanek, that was published in the August 3rd edition of the Avalanche. There are a few statements made by Mr. Stanek that are out of line.

Are all the "you" people causing trouble to everyone? No, I don't think so. I don't think we're causing that much trouble to people in other parts of the state, we're also not causing everyone around the Camp Grayling area trouble. A number of the people in this area are members of the AuSable Manistee Action Council (AMAC), and others that are not happy with the National Guard.

Mr. Stanek, do you speak for all the people of Michigan regarding Camp Grayling? Many people of Michigan do not share your views on this situation. When the letter stated "our guard," who is our guard? As of now "our guard" includes Michigan and other states like: Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, and also other countries like the Italian Air Force, which has used the camp.

To most people, "our guard," is only the Michigan National Guard. Camp Grayling was set up for the Michigan National Guard, only, in the original Rasmus Hanson Trust.

What are the reasons that Camp Grayling needs all these improvements? Will Camp Grayling become Fort Grayling? With improvements like: a multi-purpose range-heavy, another artillery range, and an Air Assault Landing Strip. Are these so called improvements really improvements or are these really dangerous to the area and environment?

The people that were labled as trouble makers and wanting their own way, is totally wrong. We are trying to look out for the environment and for the best damn spot on Earth, the area around Grayling. We are not out to stop Camp Grayling totally, we are just trying to keep it in control, for the best interest for everyone.

Mr. Stanek, I am one of the future generations. It is my wish to myself and others that we will be able to continue to come up to this area and still have it as beautiful as it is now. Thankfully this will happen through AMAC and other people interested in the preservation of the environment and this area.

Comparison of Grayling To Beirut is Over-Reacting

Dear Editor:

For the past few years I have, as a resident of the area, been reading the letters and comments, both positive and negative about the presence of the National Guard. Throughout this period I have heard Grayling referred to over and over again as the "Beirut of the North" by National Guard detractors including a Detroit Free Press columnist.

Today's Detroit Free Press headlines were "Bush Expresses 'outrage' of U.S. Marine reported hanged; another hostage threatened." The following excerpt was reported under the Foreign Dateline heading of the same paper:

"Thousands flee Beirut shelling Beirut Lebanon - Cars jammed the coastal highway leading South from Beirut, as thousands more residents Monday fled shelling duels between Christians and Syrians that killed eight people and wounded 92 overnight... Since then [March 8], 510 people have been killed and 2,158 wounded."

Sunday, July 31, I too witness thousands fleeing the Grayling area, headed south on I-75, a major road out of our city. There however, the similarity ends. These were happy, healthy tourists and former residents who had been in the area enjoying the Milltown Festival, the spectacle of the Marathon, our lakes, rivers, hotels, campgrounds and for the most part, our friendly hospitality. How dare anyone compare this area with a hell hole like Beirut?

It is true the bombing and some of the military exercises do create noise and rattle windows, traffic during training season is congested, and yes, even the wildlife is somewhat disturbed. But our children are safe, we don't fear for our lives each time we venture out of our homes, nor do we worry if our homes will be shelled or bombed, and animals seem to flourish here.

The comparison of Grayling to Beirut is shameful and seems quite typical of the over reactions of these select few selfish, and narrow minded individuals who continually try to pass their views off as being those of the majority of area residents. These people apparently have no idea of what it is like to fear for one's life, that of a loved one, nor for the safety and preservation of our homeland.

Sure, there are some drawbacks to having the National Guard here. There are some very legitimate problems and concerns which should and for the most part are, being addressed. However, coining such hysterical phrases such as the "Beirut of the North" is not a solution. It shows instead, ignorance and most of all insensitivity to those who have loved ones stationed in the Beirut area, or have perhaps even lost a loved one there.

Perhaps it would be to everyone's advantage if these detractors would take the time to consider such issues before they speak. Talk to someone who has been to Beirut or had a loved one there, just maybe they would then begin to truly appreciate this wonderful area and realize what the real cost of maintaining a free country such as ours is.

School's Community Education Program Expands

The Crawford AuSable School District's Community Education Program has a new director, a new office, and a new look.

R. J. Hannan, Grayling High School language arts instructor for the past 20 years, accepted the position of Community Education Director early this year, following the retirement of longtime Director Howard Taylor.

The office has been moved to its original spot (just left of the front door at Grayling High School), making it easier for visitors to find and providing needed space for Hannan and his secretary, Diane Hudson.

The new look is evident in the change of Community Education logos. The updated one reads, "Discover Yourself!" and is being used in visible places, such as on letterheads and signs.

Although Hannan was hired only days before the start of winter semester, he was determined to make a smooth transition and keep Community Education in full operation. Thus, he continued to offer enrichment classes, open to the entire community, and academic and high school completion courses, open to adults who want to work toward or earn high school diplomas.

Meanwhile, he prepared for a complete summer recreation and enrichment program, open to children of the area. Offerings included vacation playground, children's theatre, basketball and wrestling clinics, and tennis, pom-pom, baton and modern dance classes.

Hannan says that the summer program, now in full operation, would not have been possible without financial assistance from the Grayling Youth Booster, Kiwanis, Lions and Rotary Clubs. The addition of vacation playground, held at both Frederic and Grayling Elementary Schools, is particularly special to him, because ten years have passed since the program was last offered.

He also looks forward to the Adult Learning Center's upcoming move to Hanson Hills, set at August 1. "I'm really excited. It's a nice facility and a larger area" than they presently have.

Half of the former Fred Bear Museum building will be divided into four separate classrooms to offer daytime courses in adult basic education (ABE), general equivalency diplomas (GED), employability skills training (EST) and remedial reading.

This program, he explains, is for adults who didn't graduate from high school or for students who fell behind in graduation credits but want to catch up and graduate with their class.

Hannan is in the process of expanding Community Education offerings to the area's senior citizens. He is organizing an advisory group, offering academic classes with field trips, and providing short seminars in such topics as financial planning and will preparation.

He added a pleasant touch to last year's Passport to Adventure Series with his afterglow events. The China travelogue featured fortune and almond cookies and tea, catered by Da Fu Restaurant, while guests at the Hawaii travelogue ate coconut cookies and drank Hawaiian Punch.

Hannan was pleased to see attendance up -- 425 people attended one travelogue -- and he attributes the larger audience size to a strong publicity campaign.

He says he'll have a few surprises for next year's travelogue series, too. Places to be visited include: the Blue Ridge Mountains (September 21), Greece (November 2), Australia (November 30), India (February 8), New Zealand (March 1) and Denmark (March 29).

Finally, plans are nearly completed for a 1989-90 concert series, which will feature a wide variety of instrumental and vocal music entertainment.

Hannan intends to form an advisory committee for cultural events to help plan future programs.

The advancement to Community School Director was another step in the long and varied career Hannan has enjoyed in Crawford County since 1969. A member of the GHS language arts department, he also worked as assistant athletic director from 1973 to 1985.

He has been a part-time instructor in English, speech and real estate at Camp Lehigh and Kirtland Community College, advisor to the GHS newspaper for five years and a residential real estate appraiser.

Hannan served as advisor to six different GHS classes and as chairperson of the North Central Accreditation Steering Committee. Presently, he is an advisor to the high school SADD (Students Against Drunk Driving) Program.

In the community, he has worked with the Chamber of Commerce, Youth Booster Club, Hanson Hills and as manager of a variety of political campaigns. He is currently a member of the Kiwanis Club and chairperson of their annual Golf Day.

Thank You

What a blessing the excellent care given by Dr. Kaatz, Dr. Howell, and I.C.U. nursing staff of Mercy Hospital was to us in the passing of our mother, grandmother, and great-grandmother, Sue McDanold. We would also like to thank Rev. Derik Roy, Sr. Regina, and the St. Francis Prayer Chain.

Bet You Didn't Know

Brought To You By Laurie Scheer-Alton

To realize how great a runner Walton Payton was in the National Football League, look at this ... On the all-time NFL list of most yards gained rushing in a career, Payton is not only in first place, he leads the second-place man by almost 4,000 yards ... The top 5 in NFL history in rushing are: Payton 16,728 yards ... Tony Dorsett 12,739 ... Jim Brown 12,312 ... Franco Harris 12,120 ... and Johniggins 11,352.

There will be a new major college football bowl game this year ... The new bowl will be the Copper Bowl ... It will be played Dec. 30 at Arizona Stadium in Tucson.

Here's an oddity ... Although baseball's Hall of Fame is in Cooperstown, N.Y., because that was the hometown of baseball's supposed inventor, Abner Doubleday ... oddity enough, Doubleday himself is NOT in the Hall of Fame ... Most voters over the years have doubted that Doubleday really invented baseball, so they've kept him out of the Hall of Fame EVEN THOUGH IT WAS BUILT THERE IN THE FIRST PLACE BECAUSE OF HIM!

I bet you didn't know that Laurie Scheer Alton had her best week in the car business this week. She takes a lot of heck from her male counterparts. Let's help keep Laurie's momentum going strong and buy a car from Laurie.

Frederic Hobby Club Celebrates 35th Anniversary

The Frederic Hobby Club celebrated their 35th anniversary Monday, July 24, with 30 members and guests present.

In January of 1954, Vi Middleton, Barbara Hinkle Minard met with Merna Newberry at her home and decided that it would be worthwhile to have a club for the ladies of the area. There was a great interest shown. It was then that the Frederic Home Extension Club was formed.

It was at a later date the name of the club was changed to The Frederic Hobby Club. In the club are members from Grayling, Maple Forest, Gaylord, Caseville, as well as Frederic.

Through the 35 years the group has shared many memories, had lots of hopes realized, made wonderful friendships and had many good times together. Also important are the community services the club was able to provide.

35 year members are Merna Newberry and Vi Middleton.

During the celebration the word game was won by Jeanne Pearce, Annabelle Armstrong's team won the Washday Blues Relay Race, and the group played bingo.

Esther Weaver and Margaret Gugin sang a special "Through the Gates Into Yesterday."

Helma read a poem in memory of Anita Lozon that Anita had given at the Club's Officer's Dinner, when she was club president.

The group all joined in the singing of "This Land Is Your Land." The prayer was given by Annie Berger.

The centerpiece for the refreshment table was a lovely 35th anniversary cake, which was decorated in the colors of gold and blue, the club colors.

Esther Weaver was the winner of the door prize, which was a beautiful handmade wooden rocking horse.

Bits of Talk

By Fay Bovee (348-7017)

Bill Tufts is recovering from larynx surgery at Munson Medical Center. He is able to be out and driving again and is doing very well.

Spending the weekend at the Owl's Roost on the AuSable during the weekend of August 4 were Bob and Mickey Strong of Alpena, Bethany and John Campbell of Grand Lake, John's sister and family, Dawn and Mark Thompson, Katy, Maggie, Joseph, and Jennifer, of Alanson. Mrs. Frank Brousseau of Ossineke, Carol Klein of Houston, and Eva Strong of Grayling. The Campbells and Thompsons also visited their grandparents, the Vivan Campbells and other relatives. The Campbells and Thompsons took a canoe trip from Grayling to the Owl's Roost.

Eleven-year-old Aaron Wilcox, son of Teresa and Fred Rayould, flew to Florida and back by himself to spend three weeks visiting his uncle and family, A. J. Wilcox, Jan El and Heather, at Palm Bay. He also visited another uncle, John Wilcox in Barefoot Bay. Aaron was able to spend four days at Disneyworld; he visited Kennedy Space Center, SeaWorld, and the Boardwalk and celebrated his 12th birthday while in Florida.

Art and Mary Jane Thayer attended the 43rd annual National Reunion of the Seabees in Toledo weekend before last. It was held at the convention center at the Sheraton Inn in Toledo. The battalion from the 126th won the award for having the most people in attendance for the 8th consecutive year. On their return home, the Thayers stopped in St. Johns on Sunday for the Sutton-Ivey reunion at the City Park.

The 14th annual Perry family reunion was held on Saturday, August 5, 1989, at Hanson Hills, Grayling. There were 60 people present with the oldest one being Mrs. Mary Perry of Grayling, and the youngest, Nikki Lynch, daughter of Sharon and James Lynch of Grayling. Persis Vernier of Phoenix, Arizona, came the furthest and Jacqueline Small of Grayling had the most family present. The annual 'junior' and 'senior' ball game was played and won by the juniors. There were games for the children and a delicious potluck lunch. On Sunday some of the group 'enjoyed' a very cold canoe trip down the river and on Monday part of the group went to Mackinac Island for the day. The 15th annual reunion is scheduled for Hanson Hills on August 4, 1990.

The Tom Weidemanns of Troy, Ohio, visited his family, the Art Weidemanns last week.

Tom LaMotte of Ft. Myers, Florida, arrived last Thursday night at Cherry county Airport, Traverse City, to visit relatives and friends. He came also to visit his sister, Waltine, who is a patient at the hospital in Petoskey.

The 30th Annual Atkinson Reunion was held on Sunday, July 30, at Sanford Lake. Alice and Glen Taylor came from Ocala, FL. Roy Atkinson came from Carlisle, PA. Largest family was that of Ruth and Bill Eyre, Gladwin, with 8, including their new grandson, Nicholas Bedbury, Midland, who was the youngest. Alice Taylor was the oldest.

Family groups were photographed by Norman Sorenson, Mt. Pleasant, for the family album of pictures. Committee was headed by Judy Sorenson, Saginaw, with her assistants, Ray Luebs and Bob Reif, Bay City. Attending from Grayling was Clara Sorenson.

Merna Newberry and her sister Marilyn Post, of Flushing, spent a few days last week camping by the Maitland River, in Goderich, Ontario, Canada. While there they visited their Uncle Thomas Glen at Clinton.

The Bible Speaks

From Calvary Baptist Church

The Gospel of John Part #91

Precepts About Peace

In John 16:28-33, this last discourse of Christ with His disciples before His arrest, and crucifixion. He discussed their possession of peace. The person of Jesus Christ is the prince of peace from eternity. In His incarnation, the angels declared "peace on earth" at His arrival in Bethlehem. "I came forth from the Father, and am come into the world; again, I leave the world, and go to the Father." (John 16:28).

As Jesus Christ reminds His disciples of His deity or eternal equality with the Father, they respond with a sense of certainty and confidence toward Him. "His disciples said unto him, Lo, now speakest thou plainly, and speakest no proverb. Now are we sure that thou knowest all things, and needest not that any man should ask thee: by this we believe that thou camest forth from God." (John 16:29, 30). Although they attribute divine qualities to Jesus Christ, their profession is no greater than that of Nicodemus in John 3:2; or the woman of Samaria in John 4:29; or the confession of Peter in John 6:14; or the confession of Martha in John 6:29.

Jesus Christ now teaches His disciples their failure to possess His peace. The peace of God gives us victory in the areas of faith, fear, and fellowship. The disciples still were confused concerning the question of faith. "Jesus answered them, Do ye now believe?" He questioned their faith. Second, He reminded them they did not yet have victory over the question of fear.

"Behold, the hour cometh, yea, is now come, that ye shall be scattered, every man to his own..." (John 16:32a). Third, Jesus Christ reminded them of the coming break in fellowship. "...And shall leave me alone; and yet I am not alone, because the Father is with me." (John 16:32b). The answer to loneliness is fellowship with God and other Christians. (1 John 1:1-4).

Jesus Christ then gives His disciples the formula to divine peace. "These things I have spoken unto you, that in me ye might have peace. In the world ye shall have tribulation; but be of good cheer; I have overcome the world." (John 16:33). The faith answer to end confusion is the Word of God. "These things I have spoken unto you..." (See also John 14:27). The answer to loneliness is fellowship with Jesus Christ. "...That in me ye might have peace..." He is our peace. (Eph 2:14). We have peace through the blood of his cross. (Col. 1:20). We have peace with God, (Rom. 5:1), and the peace of God, (Phil. 4:6, 7), through faith in Him. Third, persecution from the world is normal, and nothing to fear. "...In the world ye shall have tribulation; but be of good cheer; I have overcome the world." (John 16:33c).

CHURCH DIRECTORY

THE OLD WAY

The old pump handle was the counterpart of our modern water faucet. You simply had to be thirsty enough to want to pump water.

New ways often bring little that's new. They just make it easier to satisfy our necessities.

But those who spiritually thirst—for souls that are dry. There is no new way. There is no way to pipe the water of a new life into the soul of a person.

It isn't difficult to overcome the spiritual drought of our time. But you've got to realize your own thirst for God. And you've got to draw on the deep, refreshing resources where they are. Let the church or synagogue of your choice help you rediscover the old way.

August 11, 1966

The Michigan Public Service Commission added its approval of the extension of Grayling's Michigan Avenue to serve the proposed new Crawford County Courthouse by authorizing the construction of a crossing over the New York Central Railroad.

Exchange student Ulf Bertil Jarvholm, 16, Sweden, was scheduled to arrive in Grayling the latter part of August and make his home with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph King at Lake Margrethe. Ulf, a senior, was to attend the Grayling High School during the 1966-67 school year.

Dr. B. E. Henig was elected president of the newly formed Crawford AuSable School District at the permanent board's August 8 meeting.

The Glen's Market ad featured a 2 lb. box of Zion Fig Bars for $1.19, blade cut chuck roasts for $.49 per pound, head lettuce for $.25 each and a 25 lb. bag of Vets Dog Food for $1.99.

Eighty-four members of the Feldhauser clan met at Hartwick Pines State Park on Sunday, July 31, for their annual family reunion.

During the July 11, 1966, City Council meeting, the council voted to accept Scheer Motors, Inc.'s 1967 police car quotation of $2,150, less $900 trade-in allowance on the present police car, for a total cost of $1,250.

The Secretary of State's office in the City Hall was closed on August 16, 17 and 18, while Mrs. Gould attended a housing review in Chicago. The office was open only August 15 and 19 that week.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Maurer and sons Tony and Louis attended the Maurer family reunion at Lake Odessa last Sunday. Their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Terry Maurer and daughter Laurie, of Ann Arbor, also attended.

In the first group of soldiers assigned to the University of Illinois for the Army Specialized Training program is Edmund Rutkowski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Smith of Grayling. The men are under military discipline at all times. They are quartered in some two dozen fraternity houses which have been taken over for this purpose.

Michigan automobiles will have only one license plate in 1944. It will be a rear plate which will probably be printed with white numerals and letters on a maroon background. Gus T. Hartman, deputy secretary of state, said the war production board has formally notified his department sufficient light steel would be released for the plates.

A new Ordinance has just been passed by our City Council which authorized our Mayor to appoint a committee to assume complete charge of our two cemeteries. Mayor Burke appointed a committee of three—T. W. Hanson, Mrs. Frank Barnett and C. J. McNamara. The committee hired Mr. Otis Cook to have complete charge of the work, acting in the capacity of foreman. The ultimate aim of the Cemetery Committee is to completely rebuild, landscape and beautify both cemeteries so that they will compare favorably with any modern cemetery in our state. In order for us to meet this there lies a tremendous job ahead which may take a few years to complete.

Our hats off to Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Davis for giving Grayling that electric street clock. Help Given

*The rich man went out walking
On a bright warm winter's day
But soon a blizzard was raging
The rich man soon lost his way*

*The temperature went crashing down
By night to thirty five below
The rich man lost and helpless
Went staggering through the snow*

*With the night so cold and the howling wind
He knew he wouldn't live through the night
Through the dark and the blowing snow
His eyes saw a ray of dim light*

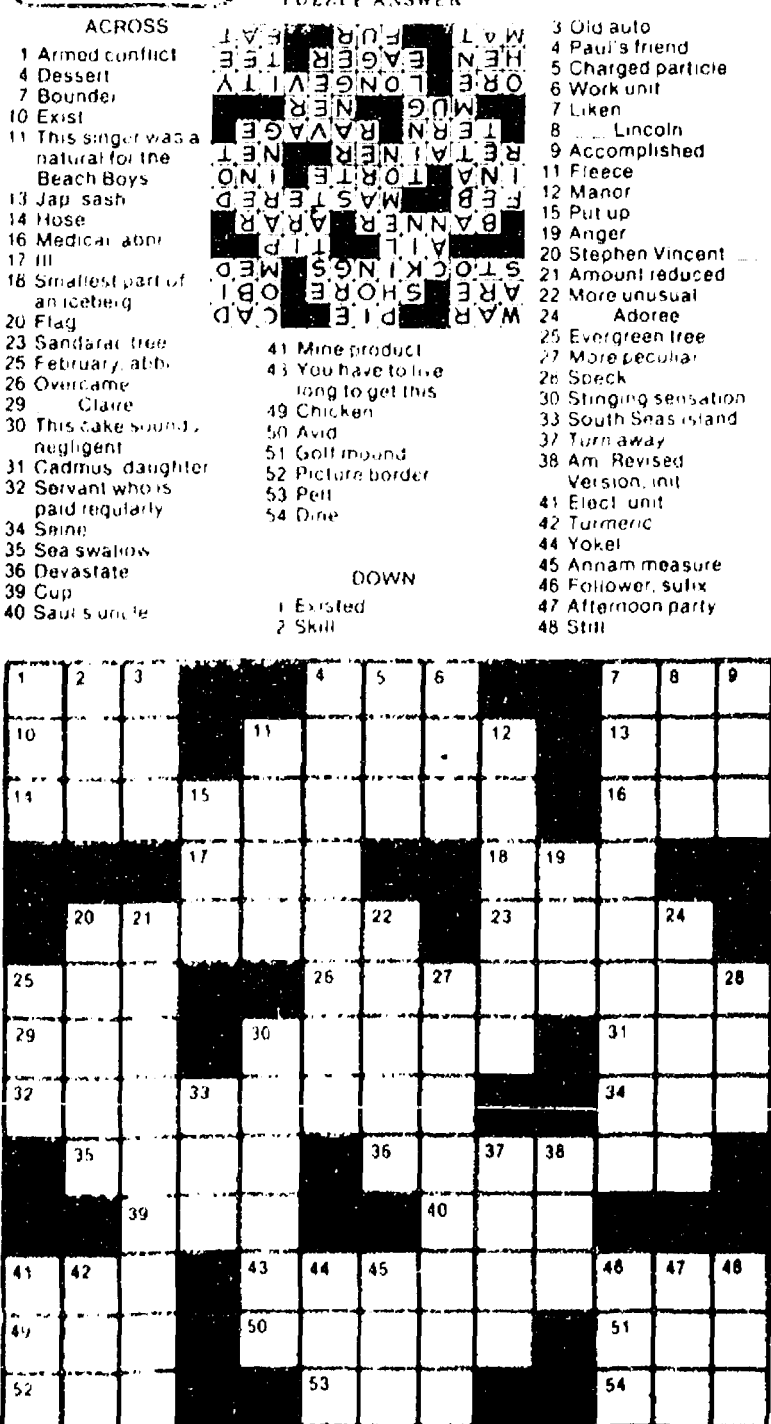

*The light led him to a humble shack
No mansion had ever looked as good
As the humble home of the wood cutter
Who made his living selling wood*

*The rich man soon was at the door
The wood cutter took him in to his fire
The rich man realized who he was Expected to be turned away in ire*

*The wood cutter fixed him a warm meal
Soon had him resting in a warm bed
No bitterness did the wood cutter show
Not an angry word was said*

*The rich man went home next morning
A much different man than he had been
Knowing that he could never turn away
Anyone in need again*

WEEKEND CROSSWORD

Resource Review

By Bruce Patrick
Conservation Officer

There have been questions as to when an angler needs a trout stamp. In the past, we have been lenient in our enforcement posture and have only required a person to have a trout stamp when they have actually had trout in possession. I have always advised anglers of this when asked, but further stated that a trout stamp should be required of anyone fishing on any designated trout water.

This issue was brought up for review recently in light of the catch and release regulations on the AuSable River Mainstream. After all, the reasoning went, if a person cannot legally have a trout in possession on that stretch of water, then there is no reason for them to purchase a trout stamp. (In all fairness to those who regularly fish the "no kill" waters, they did not raise the question and I have never had a problem with them not having trout stamps).

The result of the review has been a firm statement that a trout stamp is required of anglers on the following waters:

1. all designated trout lakes.
2. all designated quality trout waters
3. a designated trout stream and the Great Lakes when it is clear in the mind of the Conservation Officer that trout and/or salmon are the target species.

This is how it should be and should result in the enhancement of trout management efforts.

Michigan peaches are coming in and we must enjoy them during their short season. Here are some uses for this delicious fruit.

When baking chicken, add sliced peaches about 20 minutes before chicken is done. Baste a little with pan juices.

Make your favorite vanilla custard ice cream. Just before cooking the custard, add 3 or 4 peaches, chopped, and 3 or 4 tablespoons of preserved ginger, finely chopped.

Use peaches instead of apples to make your favorite cobbler.

Use peaches instead of apples in bran muffins.

Make a custard and pour it over sliced peaches before chilling. Peach slices should be tossed with a little lemon juice.

Baked Peaches

6 Peaches, peeled and arranged in baking dish
1 c. Sugar
Zest and juice of 1 lemon
1/2 Tsp. Mace
1 c. Port, dry red, or white wine

Bring sauce ingredients to a boil to dissolve sugar. Pour over peaches and bake at 350° about 20 minutes, basting several times. Cool, then chill, before serving.

Peach Mousse

1 1/4 c. Chopped peaches
1/4 c. Sugar
Pinch of salt
1 1/2 Envelopes unflavored gelatin

KCC Announces 89-90 Performing Artist Series

Kirtland Community College has just received a grant from the Weyerhaeuser Company Foundation in support of the Performing Artist Series. This is the third year that the Series has received this support.

"Because of this generous support, the series has continued to survive the most serious financial period in the college's history, improve the quality of the artist presented and has been able to keep ticket prices at a very economical level," stated Douglas Purcell, Community Services Coordinator at Kirtland.

This season's Weyerhaeuser Performing Artist Series features the Fats Waller musical revue "Ain't Misbehavin'" on October 13, 1989; The Ethnic Dance Theatre, on Saturday, November 18; and classical guitarist Gerald Klickstein on December 9.

On Saturday, March 24, 1990, the Stars of the Lawrence Welk Show will visit Kirtland for the first time; and closing the season, on April 21, will be folk artist Sally Rogers.

Season tickets are now on sale for the series.

Children from households whose income is at or below the levels shown are eligible for free and reduced-price meals or free milk.

Application forms are being sent to all homes with a letter to parents or guardians. To apply for free or reduced-price meals, households should fill out the form and return it to the school. Additional copies of the application form are available at the principal's office in each school. An application which does not contain all of the following information cannot be processed by the school: (1) the total monthly household income AND the amount and source of income received by each household member (such as wages, child support, etc.) OR the household's food stamp case or AFDC number if the household is on food stamps or receives AFDC; (2) names of all household members; (3) social security numbers of all household members 21 years of age and older, or the word "none" for any adult household member who does not have a social security number; and (4) the signature of an adult household member.

FOOD STAMP/AFDC HOUSEHOLDS: If you currently receive Food Stamps or "Aid to Families with Dependent Children" (AFDC) for your child, you only have to list your child's name and Food Stamp or AFDC case number, print your name and sign the application.

The information provided by the household is confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility and verifying data. Applications may be verified by the school or other officials at any time during the school year.

If children are approved for free or reduced-price meal or free milk benefits, the household must report to the school increases in household income over $50 per month ($600 per year) and decreases in household size.

Households may apply for benefits at any time during the school year. If a household is not currently eligible but has a decrease in household income, an increase in household size or if a household member becomes unemployed, the household should fill out an application at that time.

In most cases foster children are eligible for these benefits regardless of the household's income. If a household has foster children living with them and they wish to apply for free or reduced-price meals or milk for them, the household should contact the school for more information.

Under the provisions of the policy, Director of Special Education will review applications and determine eligibility.

Parents or guardians dissatisfied with the ruling of the official may wish to discuss the decision with the determining official on an informal basis. The household also has the right to a fair hearing. This can be done by calling or writing the following official: George Johnson, COOR Intermediate School District.

has a copy of the complete policy, which may be reviewed by any interested party.

In the operation of the child feeding programs no child will be discriminated against on the basis of race, color, national origin, age, sex, or handicap. If any member of a household believes they have been discriminated against, they should write immediately to the Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250.
